

3rd Annual CSU ASCE Golf Tournament

Dear Prospective Participant,

You are invited to the third annual Colorado State University Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers Golf Tournament.

The Colorado State University Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers seeks to provide its members with a wide range of programs and opportunities. Student projects such as the Concrete Canoe and Steel Bridge regional competitions, give students the opportunity to work on projects which apply our education toward an engineering goal. This chapter's varied activities combine to create well-rounded quality engineers. The student chapter also holds monthly meetings with a guest speaker. All proceeds from the tournament will help the student teams as well as the student chapter in general.

This 18-hole tournament will be held at the Collindale Golf Course in Fort Collins, Colorado on Saturday, September 15, 2007. Participation in this tournament may be done in three ways:

Play in the tournament: Cost is $85 per person ($70 for current CSU students) $330 per foursome ($280 per foursome for current CSU students). Cost includes 18 holes of golf, golf cart rental, and lunch afterwards. Play will begin at 1:00 PM and will be a scramble. At least one week before the tournament you will be notified of tee-times.

Sponsor: An individual or company can sponsor the tournament.

1. Gold Hole Sponsor: Hole sponsorship is $400, which includes playing in the tournament for 4 people as well as getting the company, or individuals' name on a hole sign.
2. A Green Hole Sponsor: Hole sponsorship of $200 which includes playing in the tournament for 2 people as well as the company, or individuals name on a half of a hole sign

General Donation: Whatever you can give to help the student chapter. Donation donors will be acknowledged at the golf tournament.

All registration forms must be turned in by Friday, September 7, 2007. Please download, print, fill out the registration form (checks payable to "ASCE"), and send checks to:
