MEET THE AMBASSADORS
CIVIL AND ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEERING

KAYLA

How did you decide to major in Civil Engineering?
I’ve always enjoyed problem-solving and finding solutions for large, visual issues. With interests in design, architecture, and planning I chose Civil Engineering because I felt that it would be a good fit. I enjoyed math and science in high school and wanted to challenge myself in college and in my career.

What has been most rewarding during your time at CSU?
Connecting with the CSU community members has been extremely rewarding because I feel like I’m part of a big family, and it’s opened up many opportunities for me to personalize my college experience. I’ve been able to better myself and have experiences that I wouldn’t have otherwise known about through the people that I’ve met.

What does it take to be a successful student in the CEE program?
As a student in the CEE program I found that making connections from each course makes a successful student. In classes it is was to just focus on the problem at hand but knowing the bigger picture helps me understand each course better.

How did you decide to major in Environmental Engineering?
I have always liked math so I knew I wanted to do something in engineering but wasn’t sure what. I really liked studying the hydrologic cycle in science, and there is strong focus in water within Environmental Engineering.

NICK

What does it take to be a successful CEE student?
In my eyes, success in this program boils down to a student’s ability to be efficient and intentional. Being able to effectively manage your time not only promotes productivity, but also allows you the time to do things that you enjoy outside of the classroom. Being intentional breeds success as it encourages students to seek help when they need it and personally invest in their education experience.

How do you spend your free time?
I love running, hiking, biking, and anything that I can do outdoors. In the winter, I enjoy playing guitar, listening to records, and skiing. I am also an avid traveler as well as a triathlete. It is my dream to compete in the Ironman World Championships in Hawaii.
