IAESTE (I-ess-tay) is the International Association for the Exchange of Students for Technical Experience, a global organization which maintains consultative and operational relations with United Nations, European Union, and Organization of American States.

Colorado State University is one of only thirty colleges and universities in the United States that has a reciprocal relationship with IAESTE, enabling our students to intern abroad each summer. For every one international student that is hosted within the College of Engineering at CSU, we are able to send one of our current engineering students abroad.

IAESTE internships are PAID internships abroad with industry, research institutes, universities, consulting firms, labs, etc. Most internships are 8-12 week summer positions, but longer term placements are sometimes available.

Eligibility Requirements
- You must be a student member of a IAESTE Local Chapter (LC)
- Full-time engineering student with successful completion of sophomore year by start of internship
- Between 19-30 years of age and proficient in English
  - Foreign language skills are not necessary, but may be helpful
- Non-U.S. citizens are eligible

Program Cost
- $25 annual membership dues paid to IAESTE United States
- Internship application fee: $50
- $600 program fee ($100 refundable deposit upon completion of employer evaluation)
- Cost of Airfare (varies by country)
- Visa fee (if applicable)
- Personal medical insurance

Salary
- All interns are paid a salary (in local currency) to help you cover the cost of living
- Salaries vary from country to country, but are typically equivalent to $12-15 USD
- The IAESTE internship is not meant to be a money making venture, but an invaluable global engineering experience
