The Building Enclosure Industry (also known as the Building Envelope) involves the assessment, design, investigation and specification of building exteriors including exterior walls, foundations, roofs, windows and doors, siding, insulation, air barriers, and demising partitions. It also includes the commissioning of buildings to meet new energy code requirements. <https://iibec.org/about/>

Building Enclosure Engineers and Consultants are experienced with the design, construction, and repair of building exteriors to meet the current building code requirements. Through the International Institute of Building Enclosure Consultants (IIBEC) we offer valuable industry credentials that designate the experience and qualification of individuals with various aspects of the building envelope. These certifications are recognized industrywide by various associations, building code officials, government agencies, and manufacturers. <https://iibec.org/wp-content/uploads/All-Credential-Flyer-Current.pdf>
