COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING
COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY

AORD is a student run and student led organization seeking to compete in collegiate level offroad motorsport. In this group we focus on concepts surrounding off road vehicle design and construction. The club offers a variety of workshops including basic welding, engine theory, suspension design and metal machining. We attend several events throughout the year to promote the organization and its sponsors.

Our team seeks to participate in BAJA SAE®, an international competition which is attended by thousands of participants and spectators. Baja SAE® consists of events that test students' ability to design and build a vehicle that can thrive on rough terrain.

In-kind donations are also very welcome.

Sponsors may donate at any level to receive stated benefits. AORD will ensure proper allocation of the funding to benefit the BAJA SAE® competition vehicle as well as supply workshop materials for the club. The BAJA SAE® competition will showcase the vehicle in front of thousands of participants and spectators giving everyone the chance to see the vehicle and its supporting sponsors. The vehicle will also be displayed on campus in front of students, professors, alumni, and members of industry.

* Displayed at competition: During the competition the team will utilize any type of banners and/or marketing desired by the sponsor. Our goal is to represent the best of CSU, and with the resources that become available, promote our team and its sponsors.

* Media Inclusion: AORD will stay current with build progress, keeping all our social media and photo sharing platforms updated. In these updates, our plan is to advertise our valuable sponsors as much as possible.

* Sponsor Determined Benefit: This option allows the organization to give back to the sponsor in a manner of the business' choosing. This inclusion is case by case.

Please make checks payable to: CSU Foundation – BSAE
