Becoming a Colorado Resident

This section does not apply to international students

If you are a domestic student but are NOT a Colorado resident for tuition purposes, we highly encourage you to consider becoming a Colorado resident. This process takes planning and a year or more to complete, so we recommend you start the process even before your first classes begin.

For non-resident domestic students with GTA/GRA appointments, the department expects to cover non-resident tuition rates for the first year of graduate study only; in subsequent years, the department covers tuition at the resident rate. To avoid a discrepancy between billed and covered tuition, non-resident domestic students who receive graduate teaching or research assistantships are encouraged to establish Colorado residency during their first year of study.

If you are not currently assigned a GTA/GRA position, this will still significantly lower your tuition after residency has been established. If you obtain a GTA/GRA position after your first year in the program, but did not obtain Colorado residency, you may be responsible for the difference between resident and non-resident tuition.

Student Employee Retirement Plan (SERP)

This section only applies for students enrolled in credits totaling half-time or less.

If you are a GTA/GRA and are enrolled as a half-time student or less, you will have SERP/Medicare assessed against any wages or salary earned during that time.

The SERP will be applied during summer as well. If you are a GTA/GRA and are enrolled at less than half-time, you will have the SERP deducted from your paycheck.

Learn more here.

Note: Students with F1 or J1 visas AND with a tax status of non-resident alien are exempt from SERP/Medicare.
